

Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring

J. S. Bach

This flowing music can accompany a graceful walk down the aisle or simply set the mood as your guests gather before the ceremony.

Trumpet Voluntary

Clarke

A grand march that was used in the wedding of Lady Diana and Prince Charles.

Bride's March

Wagner

(the traditional processional)

There'll be no doubt that the bride has arrived when the harp strikes up this well-known processional!

Wedding March

Mendelssohn

(the traditional recessional)

Felix Mendelssohn composed this music for his ballet "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Hymne

Vangelis

Penning by the "Chariots of Fire" composer, this moving piece can make a majestic processional or a special musical interlude.

Simple Gifts

traditional Shaker hymn

Composer Aaron Copland used this melody as a recurring theme in his ballet "Appalachian Spring," but you might also know this tune as the hymn "Lord of the Dance."

The High Mountains

traditional Irish

A lilting Celtic air that makes your walk up the aisle a lighthearted one!

Prelude in C

J.S. Bach

This piece is beautiful as a harp solo, but can also be used as the accompaniment to a melody instrument or voice singing Gounod's "Ave Maria."

Gavotte

Salzedo

A spirited dance tune, this lesser-known work makes a joyful statement before or after the ceremony.

Menuet

Mozart

Well known from the opera "Don Giovanni."

Pavane

Wachs

A festive dance tune appropriate for everything from prelude to processional music.

Canon

Pachelbel

Though this beautiful work of music was composed more than 300 years ago, the Canon achieved its greatest popularity in the 20th century through widespread exposure in film, television and advertising!

Hartes-Ease

Holborne

A splendid Renaissance march well-suited to accompany a bridal party's entrance or exit down the aisle.

All in a Garden Green

Playford

Though perfect for a garden wedding, this lively tune need not be restricted to outdoor affairs!

Leslie McMichael
Harpist

Specializing in music for weddings

206-567-4768

& CD Sampler

Leslie McMichael, harpist

Wedding Music Planner

Thank you for considering my harp music for your wedding! The harp is a versatile instrument, as capable of providing a stirring march for walking down the aisle as it is playing a gentle interlude during your ceremony.

My experience as a performing harpist ranges from concerts to background music, but one of my abiding pleasures is providing music for brides and grooms-to-be. It's a privilege for me to participate in that life-altering, nerve-wracking, joyous thing we call a wedding, and I'll be pleased to do my part in making your ceremony meaningful and memorable.